Presenters:

Richard Blackmon, a pastor for over 15 years, has spent the past 20 years working on current gifts in the nonprofit arena. He has helped clients raise hundreds of millions of dollars and led a consultancy that has conducted some of the largest "major donor efforts in history" - over 20 billion dollars raised. Before co-founding Fulcrum he served as CEO and President of one of the largest companies in America providing services to a wide variety of nonprofit market verticals. Richard is married and lives in Dallas.

For the past 31 years, Greg Ring (Co-Founder of Fulcrum) has been a recognized expert and thought leader in the Planned Giving arena.

In 1987 he launched the Dallas Seminary Foundation, and in 1997 was the Co-Founder of PhilanthroCorp. These two entities have executed more than $2.7 billion in documented planned gifts with thousands of donors nationwide. Fulcrum builds on this rich history with "The Merger of Disciplines": the blending of major donor and planned giving consulting. Greg is a sought after speaker in the planned giving and charitable estate planning non-profit world. Greg and his wife, Sue, live in Colorado Springs and have three daughters and three grandchildren.

Jeffrey L. Jensen has been working in the financial services industry since 1994. He focuses on Intergenerational Family Planning, Financial Plans for Business Owners, Corporate Retirement Plans and Management, as well as, Public and Private Family Foundations. He is currently the Senior Vice President of Wealth Management and a Senior Investment Management Consultant for The Jensen Group at Morgan Stanley Smith Barney. Also active in the community, Jeff serves on the Board for OC International and is also the Founder of the Bridges Foundation. He resides in Colorado Springs with his wife and two children.
